Mitchells Transport is a certified minority women-owned trucking company and a specialist in demolition and excavation removal. We work directly with medium/large general contractors that have a need for a carrier from the beginning of a demolition project to the end, when it's time to bring in the earthwork material. We provide solutions to your hauling challenges. We own semi-trucks such as dump trucks, lightweight specialized vehicles that have a large hauling capacity and can be utilized with an array of interchangeable trailers trucks that utilize flatbed trailers. These offer our clients the ability to haul their finished material to and away from the job site. The clients we serve work on infrastructure and heavy construction projects and have a need for a reliable carrier to haul general freight intrastate. To better assist our larger clients, we also own a subsidiary company Mitchells Logistics - a licensed freight brokerage firm that connects the consignee to qualified carriers.

Past Performance

REDLINE LOGISTICS

Earned over $700,000 with the Schnitzer Steel project. They required a trucking company that was light in weight with a large hauling capacity that can haul non-hazardous material. We hauled auto-treated material that aided in the decomposition process of household waste. One obstacle we had to overcome was that certain areas were littered with scrap metal that would become lodged in our tires when we drove by and cause a flat. As there was no way to avoid this from happening, we worked closely with the supervisor to repair the tires so we could continue transporting their freight. While those weren't ideal conditions, we were flexible and still were able to fulfill the project.

WALMART

Earned $20,000 with Walmart. They had a large volume of work and were in need of a dedicated carrier. We were flexible and assisted Walmart in opening a new lane, transporting materials to red bluff, CA consistently throughout a one week period.
